For the essay sections below please answer all questions on a separate sheet of paper and use as much space as necessary to fully complete your response. Answers can be typed or written in clear handwriting.

Essay Section: Part 1

Choose TWO of the 7 questions below. Please write at least two paragraphs for each of your choices.

1. Describe a situation in which you have dealt with adversity: a time when you needed real courage.
2. What concerns do you have about entering the world as a young adult?
3. If you could change one thing about yourself (not your body) what would it be?
4. If you could do anything with your life right now, what would it be?
5. What gift do you bring to the world?
6. If you were to come up with a thoughtful question for this application, what would the question be, and why do you think it would be a good one to ask Finding the Good applicants?

Essay Section: Part 2

Choose ONE of the six quotes below. Write at least two paragraphs; tell why you chose this quote and give your personal interpretation of it.

1. Courage is resistance to fear, mastery of fear—not absence of fear. Except a creature be part coward it is not a compliment to say it is brave... (Mark Twain)
2. Beauty nourishes our soul... It allows us to remember not only what is possible, what we are capable of creating as human beings, but what is necessary. (Terry Tempest Williams)
3. The important thing is this: to be ready, at any moment, to sacrifice what you are for what you could become. (Charles Dubois)
4. Those who contemplate the beauty of the earth find reserves of strength that will endure as long as life lasts. (Rachel Carson)
5. Whatever you can do, or dream you can, begin it. Boldness has genius, power and magic in it. (Goethe)
6. Nearly all men can stand adversity, but if you want to test a man's character, give him power. (Abraham Lincoln)

Essay Section: Part 3

During the Finding the Good semester, students live closely with their peers and study subjects that effect us all. Subject interest within the group will, in large measure, guide what we study throughout the semester. This is an empowering experience and it comes with responsibility. With this in mind, please respond to each of the questions below.

1. If accepted, what would be your contribution to the learning community?
2. What would you like to learn during a Finding the Good semester?
3. How do you foresee using your skills to help your own community after the semester is over?

General Information

When to Apply

At this time, there is no deadline for a Finding the Good semester, however, space is limited. We encourage you to complete this document in good time, allowing sufficient time to reflect upon and answer the questions to the best of your ability.

Admissions Criteria

Acceptance decisions are based on the answers you submit with your application and a phone interview with the program director.

Finding the Good Applicants Are...

- Students in their junior or senior year of high school during our semester program.
- Students who will be deferring entry into college to partake in our program during their 'gap-year'.
- Recent high school graduates looking to continue their education.

Finding the Good students are ready for a big step in their lives. They have a desire to find purpose and meaning in their lives, even if they don't have a clue as to how. They are ready to explore themselves in relation to the world. They are ready to develop and practice leadership. They are ready for an expanded relationship to freedom and responsibility.

General Information

When a student applies and is accepted to a Finding the Good semester, it is our hope that financial aid can be arranged. It is our wish that no student be prevented from attending this program for financial reasons. If scholarship money available to your family is insufficient for your child to attend, we are willing to arrange a suitable payment plan.

Please contact us at learnmore@findingthegood.org (530) 265 5490 for more information on financial aid and scholarship support.

Ethics & Conduct

Our code of ethics and conduct exists to provide a supportive learning community based on mutual respect and social responsibility.

Students who are accepted into the Finding the Good semester program will be issued a student handbook that covers our code of ethics and conduct extensively. Each participating student will be required to read through the handbook, sign their acknowledgment, and enter into a contract with Finding the Good.

Finding The Good admits students of any race, color, national origin, ethnic origin, creed and sexual orientation to all the rights, privileges, programs, and activities made available at the school. It does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, ethnic origin, creed, or sexual orientation, in administration or its education policies, scholarship and loan programs, and other school-administered programs.
